FALSE REFLECTION

George Washington loved dogs and used them for hunting. He once wrote that he wanted to create a new breed: "a superior dog, one that had speed, sense, and brains." He was gifted seven French hounds and he bred them with black and tan coonhounds to create the American foxhound. Something is wrong with the reflection in the pond! How many differences can you spot in the reflection? Color all the differences you can find, then color the page.

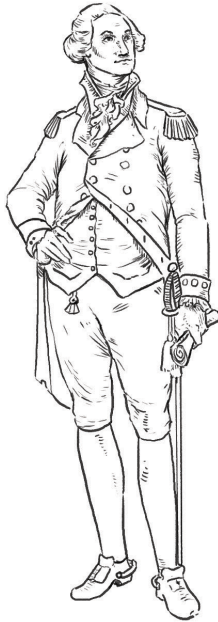

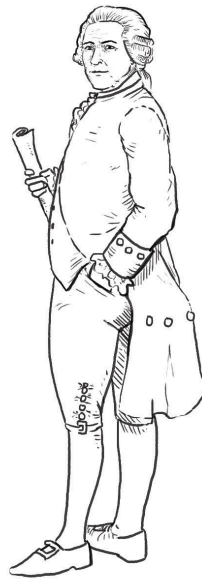

SHADOW MATCH

These Founding Fathers were the first four Presidents of the United States of America. Match each President with his shadow. Then color the Presidents.
